

Dear Members and Friends,

In this newsletter you will find many interesting items, offers, information and congratulations, do please take the time to read it – leave it on the coffee table so when you take a break(?) you can browse at your leisure. You may even be inspired to send a contribution! Have your diary to hand to make a note of meeting dates and the MBS Fairs we shall be attending.

Hello Everyone,

It's David again. As a fledgling with the Foundation, I hope I might be allowed a little "tweet" as to (one of!) the things it's about for me and which I really, really value. The Foundation is a Support Network where people give time and physical and emotional energy for free; and any money and Energy get ploughed back in to that very Support Network. It's easy to feel isolated and nowhere to turn to with confidence: but it's not necessary – not now.

It seems that quite often People have trouble "getting started" on developing a viable Client base and then become discouraged and their skills and caring are lost to the world – or else they hit some sort of apparent brick wall along the way. The Foundation is rich in people who have been there – sometimes many times – and come through it and can support you to do so too. I remember getting a really useful steer from Anne Grey when I first had to present about EFT to a sceptical group of NHS Professionals (gulp!) rather than to people interested in Therapy: the result worked a treat – three times!

When I've needed help and quickly – it's just been there. I didn't know what I could do to assist until Denise offered the Newsletter (albeit she helps no end when I am IT challenged!!!): contributing worries, uncertainties, perceived obstacles is just fine too. I experience the Meetings as truly uplifting. Please add to the Abundance – All of You...!!! (Just phone or email me: 01226 754461 or email me at [hignett david@hotmail.com](mailto:hignett david@hotmail.com).)

I've referred to help for me in relation to IT: it's there big-time for any other issues – stuck Client matters – business setup – presentations – you name it!!! Denise is passionate about offering this, and is happy to be phoned including on a Sunday (yes, I promise I have her permission to write this): if she can't personally offer what she feels is the best help then she will signpost you to someone completely appropriate and glad to be asked.

You will have noticed that the Newsletter has lost its colour: this is not an ailment but instead a recognition that the logistics of producing so very many copies on a domestic printer is not viable – thus (free!) photocopying in black and white (unless some kind Member happens to have unfettered access to a colour photocopier..... ???).

The Newsletter has also become more than somewhat longer. I want to strike a balance between including a variety of items in sufficient detail to be meaningful without reaching a point where recipients "put it aside" in dismay (to phrase this politely!). Again, feedback on this and all else is more than welcome; and I promise a personal response.

Last (you might be relieved to learn) but absolutely not least, a personal plug from me. Elaine and I went to a day Workshop in Pontefract run by Chris Wade and organized by Norma Bingley (both HF Members!) on Soul Rebirth Breath-Work, developed from the work of Leonard Orr. Chris is running two more – on 24th August and 5th October – and we shall be going to both – and it's only £35 (!!!) The experience is difficult to describe: but I recommend it without reservation to everyone who cannot say with hand on Heart they are "fully sorted": so I guess that means - Everyone.....!!!!

(Chris can be contacted at uklifeclinic@aol.com.)

Please read this uplifting and encouraging story from Carole Williams: it would seem wrong to edit it and so omit parts. Earlier "episodes" are available on the HF site!

I have just returned from what has become a must trip to Pushkar Rajasthan India for me and my family. My husband & youngest son Daniel came with me on my second visit to Pushkar in January 2004, fortunately for me they fell in love with the place & of course its people. Every year since then there has been great excitement in our house as soon as the Christmas Prezzy's are unwrapped, we start our preparation for what we know will be a great adventure.

2005 saw some of the therapists who give their time & skills free every month to raise funds for the Foundation pack their bags & make the journey to see the girls and also find out how the money we raise is spent. This time we were a group of 7, Harry & Anne Elliott, Denise & Ian Palmer, myself & Mick and of course Daniel who was then 10yrs old.

We had been sent a photo of a little boy who had been severely burned when a chimney fell on top of him melting his skin and fusing both arms to his body as well as his chin to his chest. Everyone was shocked at this picture, we decided to use some of the money we raise and pay for the operations he needed to free his arms and the medical bills that would follow. Our first visit to Ajmere hospital to see this little lad who was the same age as my son is imprinted in my memory. I can recall every inch of the walk through long dark corridors the stench of stale urine stinging my eyes. There were rats! running along the pipes that lined the walls above our heads, I held tight to Mick's hand as we walked at speed checking that Dan was ok while trying to keep my breakfast from spewing out of my mouth every time I opened it.

It was like a trip back in time to some Dickens novel except we were really in it! the only smell that comes vaguely close to Ajmere Hospital is the smell I once smelled many years ago at the Yorvick Centre in York. Then we were stood around his bed, poor kid, his big brow eyes peering over the top of his not so Persil white sheet looked petrified. The priest (Deepu) explained who we were, and managed a weak smile and nodded his head in acknowledgement.

One arm had been operated on, we had to convince the Doctor that he didn't need to take the dressing off there and then to show us, (yes he was about to put this poor little soul through that just for the white visitors) the other side would be done when the first had healed. We were all overwhelmed & tears flowed freely from both men & women in the group. I had been so preoccupied I had forgotten about Daniel & what he might be going through, I turned to see where he was and asked "are you ok" he answered " yes, I'm waiting for you lot to move so I can talk to him" it still brings a lump to my throat when I remember my ten year old son walking towards that bed and taking hold of the small hand that lay on the not so Persil white sheet, there eyes connected and to this day I don't know what was said. We left that hospital to stunned to speak to each other, our journey up the mountain road to Pushkar was very subdued.

We had lots of fun meeting the girls that our monthly fund raising has helped to go to school, their families had very little in the way of money or possessions some didn't even have a roof over their heads, they were living in makeshift shacks but they welcomed us, we were very humbled to be allowed to spend time with these wonderful people. We were invited as special guests to school to celebrate India's Independence Day on 26th January, what an amazing experience for us all. The children danced, sang and recited poetry and, though we didn't understand all of it, we still enjoyed. What a pleasure to see these children taking part as members of their school, the badge of Foundation Fior Di Loto worn with pride and pointed out to us many times.

During a visit to the poorer areas outside of the town we were introduced to a young girl named Balu, she was (we think) about 9 or 10 no one seemed sure. Again we had to try to keep the shock that we were all so obviously feeling hidden from this poor child. The right side of her face was normal the left can only describe as looking like something from the film Elephant Man! God love her, she was being kept hidden because of the way she looked. People in and around the villages would not accept her, the other children were not allowed to play with her, most probably wouldn't have anyway because she looked so scary.

After some discussion Deepu told us her mother would allow us to try to help, Denise who is a nurse and her husband, Ian, were to make arrangements to take Balu to see Doctors in Ajmere to see what, if anything, could be done. Denise was sure the disfigurement was caused by a tumour but the weight was pulling Balu's face down at one side and causing problems with her good eye.

Balu is from the Lower Cast (also known as the untouchables) Denise was amazed and disgusted at the way this little girl was treated by some of the doctors they took her to see. In the end it was decided that we would try a private hospital and see where we got with that. Denise & Ian spoke to doctors who said they needed to run some tests and do scans before they could make any decisions.

We visited Balu and her family a couple more times before returning to the UK promising to pay for any treatment she needed, and leaving all the arrangements in the capable hands of Deepu the priest in charge of the foundation in India. We would have to work hard for the next Year at our Knottingley Charity Event!

N.B. From Denise. The work that Carole has done in India is SO INSPIRING, how many of us would do this?? I have to say that I would be too afraid – thank God for people like Carole – are you one like her?? Please, if you have some time to give to help raise funds for her dedicated work, contact her on her email atthecottage@fiscali.co.uk

Now Something less inspiring but still important. Here is Denise herself on CPD. Please take note: after all even I have read something more enlightening than labels on supermarket products!

Some members have expressed concerns about the CPD info on the back of the Renewal Form. Please don't worry about this, EVERY therapist spends a lot more time on Continual Professional (and personal) Development than we realise.

A simple for instance, did you watch a particular TV programme that was of interest for you as a complementary therapist, then perhaps did you discuss this with other therapists? Remember - reading, researching, talking with other therapists or having reciprocal treatments all count, as does learning how to use a computer for records or accounting.

Not all therapies can be updated on a yearly basis and this is taken into account, just like a course that is spread over 2 / 3 years.

I suggest to all therapists 'Use Your Diary' I would be lost without mine, it is a desk diary I keep near the phone and I put everything in there, and I mean everything, even scribbles on the top of the page remind me of things. 'If it's not in the diary – it doesn't happen" (ask my husband!!)

The form only asks for brief details it doesn't have to be a course / workshop or anything that has taken a lot of hours. We are preparing you for any Government Legislation that may come into force. IT ISN'T REGULATION NOW.

If you have any worries please ring me. If you haven't renewed because you feel you haven't the correct CPD, I do hope you will send your renewal form in soon. Please remember that if you haven't renewed then the Insurance Company will be informed and you wont be able to renew your insurance at the discounted price.

If, regretfully, you have decided not to renew for some reason I would appreciate you letting me know so I wont bother you with reminders. However, I will keep you on our records and will contact you now and then to keep in touch. And of course you can always find out what's happening at The Healer Foundation by logging on to www.healerfound.co.uk.....

Love and Light,
Denise

The talk will be illustrated with a practical example of the design of a garden in Geneva. For more information and general enquiries please contact Anne direct see The Healer Foundation website (www.healerfound.co.uk).*

The Mind, Body Spirit Fair Through My Eyes.

Everyone here today is on the same journey. We are all at different stops on that journey, but we have been brought together because we want to heal the planet and ourselves and make our Earth a better healthier place.

The door opens, you enter, it hits you like the blast of warm air when you get off the plane in a hot country. The air is heavy with powerful energies.

The buzz has started already, colourful stands have been erected, the room sparkles with crystals of every colour, silks and heavily embroidered cloths transform the stands to individual caverns.

Spiritual ladies in floating gowns, gentlemen healers, tall with long grey hair in pony tails and beards to match give off their energetic fields.

The book seller has created a library with fabulous treats to tempt on all aspects of this wonderful world of myth, legend and deepest memories.

The joss sticks send out the relaxing aroma welcoming everyone in. The gentle tingling of wind chimes as they are strung up to view. The genuine smiles and warm friendship of colleagues old and new.

The meditative music floats around the room offering different gentle haunting melodies coming from all corners of this transformed hall.

The crowds arrive in eager anticipation,
What will I see?
What will I feel?

What will I hear?
What will I discover about myself?

They move slowly, cautiously, at first. Absorbing the feelings of warmth and the energies that have been craftily installed by those eager to please.

The sessions get booked quickly
He looks interesting let's have a reading with him--!!
Not so sure about her, looks a bit spooky to me!!

The talks begin; they crowd into the small curtained off corner eager to be enlightened by these wondrous healers.

The traders demonstrate their wares,

The magic potions that will change your life.
The lovely creams that will soften your skin.
The beautiful trinkets that will brighten your homes.
The lovely music that will help you relax.
The colourful books that will empower you.
Angel fingers to calm you.
Carvings and jewels to decorate your body.
Mystical, magical and colourful gifts to wow your friends.
Gifts from the Orient to entice your inner thoughts.
Angelic paintings to adorn your home.
Tarot cards to tell your future.
Reiki to relax body and soul.
Reflexology to cure your aches.
Most important of all

Sept 21/22 at Harrogate, North Yorkshire
Next Year Ilkley 28th and 29th March 2009.

Alas I missed the March Meeting. However, here is the inimitable and irrepressible (!!!) Eve Campbell once again.....:

There were about 20 people there and some were new members. There was a lot of interaction from the group which was lovely. Denise and Jenny both did lovely, lighthearted fun presentations about the benefits of going GREEN and gave lots of great tips and encouragement to keep us all thinking that way. Rena talked about her book and also about JOY and how this is all around us and more to come. She was her normal positive and enthusiastic self. It was suggested that members should bring copies of their favourite books, following people talking of books they liked. (PLEASE FEEL FREE TO BRING THOSE VERY SPECIAL BOOKS AND TO TALK ABOUT THEM IN THE GROUP – OR NOT – AS YOU WISH.)

I (of course) had to have a say yet again to encourage healthy eating etc. I took along some info on MSM and zeolite in my mission to pass the word.

We had a lovely display of Miessence products from Denise and Jenny and I set out some whole foods, so it did look nice and created interest

It was a lovely meeting with lots of warm and encouraging energies.

The June Meeting (which I did attend) was delightful too:

First, Ali Tynan presented on “Kick The Diet”: a relevant article in the last Newsletter refers (well worth a look!). In 40 minutes (!) she encapsulated tellingly and amusingly – using NLP and Hypnotherapy principles and visualising what you want (Louise Hay) - how emotional issues always always always underpin those to do with weight/body-image. She spoke of the Indian Elephant “tethered” by a chain who could perfectly easily break free when grown-up – but does not believe this. She says, “Your body is your home and the most precious item you’ll ever own. What value do you place on it?” Ali’s Programme is either 8 weeks or an intensive weekend. Contact her on alison@bodytrain-online.co.uk.

Jan Edgar then presented on Homeopathy and Health Kinesiology: “Dissolving Anxieties and Fears”. Having practiced as a Homeopath for many years, she now uses muscle-testing to guide her on both choice and dosage of treatment. She demonstrated the technique cogently and vividly with Eve Campbell as a “volunteer”, using many verbal questions to access the Client's inner knowledge, and holding acupressure points to release energy blockages. I understand she has more than 120 HK corrections in her repertoire, and over 2,000 homeopathic remedies. I was fascinated by the range of ways in to a person she employs – including the amazing “cosmic batteries”! Many questions followed.....

An enthusiastic response from Members has led her to plan a one day Workshop in the Autumn. For further details contact Jan on jan.edgar@yahoo.co.uk.

A Contribution from Member Maureen Dyson

Maureen has been a member of the Healer Foundation since its inception and though she has not thus far found a modality she chooses to practise she is always an enthusiastic and dedicated Lightworker; and her intuitive contributions have proved of help to many.

Here are her words:

I have received many psychic messages in several forms earlier in the year, the following words came through in 'raw form' – there have been several edits to get rid of ego, me, I, mine.....

"Within the purpose of The Healer Foundation I am a catalyst and a junction box for the passage of information between those who need and those who provide, able to listen between the words spoken, to hear and be aware of needs and gifts."

I have had years of regret where no therapy called, perhaps at long last a true path is being revealed!

'Write' was the one-word message from Rena; is this what was meant?

"In linear time it is forty-five years sine I walked in fields which cover the cave maze of Malham. The day dawned sunny and out of the blue came the words "

So you fancy a trip out today?" Without hesitation I said "yes", setting about preparing a picnic and two small children for this unexpected gift. No raincoat, no umbrella, no thought of either on such a glorious day,

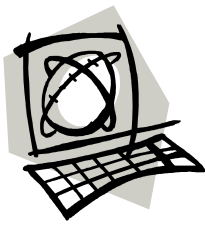

Later that day I walked on grass clipped to velvet by grazing sheep, the green studded by uncountable thousands of tiny flowers, each one like a single stitch on a Persian carpet. No strong colours here, these were the subtle colours between the rainbow.

Today I have turned the calendar page because it is July. The picture is of Malham Cove at sunset, awesome beauty in copper and magenta tones. Above the strong colours of earth and rock is a sky paling into opalescence, soft rose-pink clouds foretelling joy for the day to come.

Today I am remembering the pale pastels of the flowers which crown the Cove, feeling again the cool of the earth on my feet.

Today I am aware of the completion of this connection to Archangel Zadkiel, a new opening to love, another step towards my purpose here.

The Healer Foundation Web Site www.healerfound.co.uk

PLEASE include a link to this site on any website where your details appear: sites for your specialist modalities; regional ones; and your own. This helps you too!

Please do it precisely, as in (sorry)

<http://www.healerfound.co.uk/therapists/davidhignett.htm>.

The Logo can be obtained for copying via:

<http://www.healerfound.co.uk/members.htm#how>.

A form of words to accompany is advocated as follows: "The Healer Foundation is a Network of Therapists with Members throughout the UK. See the busy website for details of all the benefits of joining us: www.healerfound.co.uk".

I've put together a list of therapy sites that offer free (or inexpensive) links to therapists' own web pages.

If everyone with a page (or their own web site) follows this advice, the Healer Foundation web site would have hundreds more incoming links (to the therapists' pages) and would itself appear much higher up the search results for a wide range of searches. So everyone would benefit.

The listing is attached and there is also a copy plus some other advice on promoting web pages on my home web site:

How to get more business, year after year.

Free links for therapists with web pages.

Once you have either your own practitioner page or a full web site (doesn't matter which, the principle is the same) – then you need to help generate more visitors. In addition to adding your details to your email messages, on all your brochure and in local advertising, you also need to organize links to your page.

These links work in several ways. Not only do some visitors follow the links to your page, they also influence Google. More incoming links means that Google will move your page higher up the search results when someone searches for a therapist or treatment. This means you will get more visitors and more business.

I have listed below a collection of web sites (directories) that offer links to your page or web site. Most are free, all are worth exploring. It takes time but is one of the most important things you can do to help build your business.

Make sure that you use the full web address of your page, if you want to get the maximum benefit. Then visitors will arrive directly at your page, rather than going through the rest of the web site and perhaps reaching your competitors.

<http://www.infoholix.net/category.php?mld=33>

This site lists a range of therapies – there are some 70 kinesiologists listed among the 1000 or so therapists. You can and should include the web address of your web page or web site.

<http://www.healers.co.uk/>

A database driven site that lists therapists. The basic listing is free – simply complete an online form and you're in. There are options of enhanced and premium listings which you can pay for – arguably these may not be worth paying for. However, the basic listing does not allow you to put a link to your web page – that costs an extra £30pa plus VAT.

<http://www.remedyindex.com/>

A big web with a complex search system, listing lots of therapists. There is an online form. The basic listing is free, but there are several possible upgrades that require payment.

<http://www.lifeworkpotential.com/search/login.asp>

One of the better sites. It offers a free listing which can include links to your web page.

<http://www.bcma.co.uk/>

If you are a member of one of an Associated organization – like The Healer Foundation, then you should your basic details listed already. Please check your listing details are correct. You will need to send them details of your web address and ask them to include a link as part of your listing details. The contact details are:

office@bcma.co.uk

<http://www.therapiesguide.co.uk/>

Another therapy web site a rambling in structure, but it's free for a basic listing.

A basic listing allows you to list under three therapies, if you want. If you want to add a link to your web site, there is a charge of £15.

Chis Uk has been around for a while. You can list for free on here:

<http://www.chisuk.org.uk/CM/index.php>, but you have to register first.

<http://www.positivehealth.com/> This site has a good flow of visitors and lists individual therapists, including their web site address.. I tried to find out how to get listed but gave up after 10 minutes. Maybe you can find a way. It's free (I think).

<http://www.holisticpages.co.uk/directory/compare.php>

Another big web site. The basic listing is free including a link to your web site and a short description. You pay extra include your logo or banner.

http://www.webhealth.co.uk/misc/comparison\_table.asp

Yet another listing site for therapists. The basic listing is free, but if you want to include your email address and a link to your page / web site, the cost is £10pa

<http://www.psychicdirectory.co.uk/>

Slightly different, this web site lists several therapies including reiki therapists and healers. Listing is free and so worth having.

http://www.shared-

care.com/Therapies/Kinesiology/therapytools/TherapistList/GreatBritain?THERAPY\_KEY=Kinesiolo
gy

This is a newish international web site listing therapies and a lot more. Listing is free – you enter details online. It covers kinesiology and several other therapies. If you have a practitioner page or a full web site, it is worth applying. The link above is for kinesiology. For other therapies, just search for the appropriate page.

There are other lists of therapists, but most require you to join an organization in order to appear on their web site. Perhaps the best value among these is The Healer Foundation – a network of 140 therapists covering a wide range of therapies. It is worth exploring their web site: <http://www.healerfound.co.uk/> There is a modest membership charge, but the range of benefits make it good value.

That's all till next time, please keep up to date by visiting the website: www.healerfound.co.uk.
